

Gérard Jones is one of Hull's young entrepreneurs who though only 20 has been awarded the status of Enterprise UK ambassador and has already starting to support young people's aspirations across the county and further afield.

The Gérard School of Football is a specialist football development centre based at Hull University that provides specialist football performance coaching to boys and girls from the ages of 8-14yrs old of all abilities.

I am honoured to be a friend of Gérard School of Football!
